

To: CHCA Members and the General Public

On September 28 the Columbia Heights Civic Association will be holding its Annual Meeting, with a very special program that is open to the entire community. This meeting will introduce a discussion about JPods, an alternative transportation system for Columbia Pike to relieve traffic congestion. We have invited Bill James, the man who developed JPods, to make a presentation. He will be coming early with materials, so we would encourage you to arrive ahead of time, at 6:30 p.m., to have the opportunity to look at his displays and have the opportunity to meet him yourself.

Our meeting will begin at 7:00 p.m. After introductions Bill James will make a 15-minute presentation, followed by questions and discussion with the audience, moderated by Takis Karantonis.

The business portion of the meeting will be postponed until after our general meeting, but we hope that people in the neighborhood will stay for future planning, both for the JPod issue and other events.
